

Publication: Deccan Chronicle	Page No: 05
Date: 19-11-2016	Edition: Chennai

RAJALAKSHMI SIGNS MOU WITH VHS

Chennai: Rajalakshmi institutions have signed memorandum of understanding with the Voluntary Health Services (VHS) to give hands-on experience in handling the medical equipment to the biomedical engineering graduates. Rajalakshmi institutions chairperson Thangam Meganathan and professor S.Suresh, honorary secretary, the Voluntary Health Services, signed and exchanged the agreements. Speaking to the reporters, professor S.Suresh said, "There is a dearth of professionals who can ensure the smooth functioning of complicated medical types of equipment. Every other day we have some new equipment coming. But, graduates we are getting are not ready to work in hospitals." "Our students will get an opportunity to do an internship at VHS in Taramani. We want to prepare them for the jobs before they finish their courses," Thangam Meganathan said.