

Publication: Deccan Chronicle	Page No: 06
Date: 20-12-2015	Edition: Chennai

Edu group reaches out to flood-hit bizmen, students

Chennai: A Chennai-based educational group has decided to reach out to small-time businessmen, hawkers and vendors who have been affected by the unprecedented floods recently.

“This includes identifying needy vendors, rehabilitating sick businessmen, offering business opportunities in the campus, training and guiding them to approach new markets. As for now, we have received 13 calls from different areas of Chennai on this regard,” said S.Gautham, E-cell coordinator, Rajalakshmi Group of Institutions.

“We have also started tuition classes free of cost for class 12 students, keeping in mind that most of them have lost their important books, study and reference materials,” he added.

Small-scale businessmen looking to avail the service should reach S. Gautham at 8939528028.

Students who are looking to attend the special classes from December should register at hod.maths@rajalakshmi.edu.in or contact 9025466223/ 044 2646 1316 / 3718 1112 for details.